Weekly Newsletter

11.11.2022

Dear Nightingale Families,

We've had another busy week in school, ending with today with a range of activities to remember those who have lost their lives in wars past and present. The children have proudly worn their poppies around school which they made.

We have had some queries from families regarding reading and phonics in school. While we have parents evening coming up next week, now Mrs Bradfield, our English lead, is back in school, we hope to put on some further sessions in school to provide support and information for you regarding our new phonics programme Little Wandle and how we teach reading in school. We also have an online system which is in the process of being set up which will provide parents online access to a large range of books used in school. We hope to have this live by the end of the term at the latest.

We have recently updated our website, providing more information as to what is taught in phonics in reception and year 1. You can find this by clicking on the link below.

On Wednesday we had a teaching and learning review from Rosemary Kett. Rosemary was previously a headteacher and Ofsted inspector and now works in an advisory role, supporting schools on their improvement journey. We invited Rosemary to conduct a review following significant changes to leadership, the structure of the school and the curriculum in the past year. It provides a chance for leaders and all staff to reflect on where the school is and next steps.

As part of her audit, she looked at the school's improvement plans, the judgements and evaluations leaders were making in areas such as quality of education, behaviour, early years and leadership and management. Rosemary observed phonics and maths across the school as well as spending time in all classes throughout the day, talking to children, observing teaching and looking at children's work.

She was pleased with the rapid progress made in the teaching of phonics since starting the new programme 7 weeks ago and leaders demonstrated their clear view for next steps. She commented on the good learning behaviours of the children and how they conducted themselves in class and around school. The children were confident in talking about the renewed values and the many things they loved about their school.

Key areas for development outlined from the day mirrored those already identified by senior leaders in the school improvement plan. A summary of this was shared with you last week but can also be found on our school website under the key information tab.

We plan to invite Rosemary into school again in the latter part of the spring term to review progress made since her visit and identify further next steps. The success of a school's improvement journey is ensuring all stakeholders work together. We will ensure we keep you updated termly as to the progress made against our key priorities and gather to your feedback, through surveys, parents forum, general conversations and feedback from events.

Have a lovely weekend

Learning taking place in our classes this week & key messages!

EYFS

If you have peeked through the windows of Nuthatch and Kingfisher classes this week you might have thought it looked a bit dark. That's because we have been thinking about the story of "The Owl Babies" and owls, of course, come out at night. We have been using torches to read books in the book corner and making owls using feathers and googly eyes. We have used some super black play dough and star sequins to make the night sky. The children all became bird-watchers and used binoculars and to find 'owls' hidden in the trees in the glade. In the story the baby owls are wondering where their Mummy has gone – we will continue the story next week and find out what has happened to her.

In maths we have been fishing shapes with four sides out of the water tray and looking at patterns of five, particularly with our fingers. Ask the children to share the song "Five Little Peas" with you.

Please could you make sure that you sign up for parents evening using Pupil Asset. They take place on Tuesday and Thursday next week. Many of you have not made an appointment yet but there are still –plenty of slots available.

As it's November it is, of course, time to talk about Christmas! Children will have brought home lines in their book-bags. Please practise these lines as much as you can. You should also have been told what your child is going to be in the play. Please do NOT go out and buy costumes- we will send out more details of what you will need to provide in the next few weeks.

Key Stage 1

In key stage one this week we have learnt so much about emperor penguins. Some of our favourites were;

When a penguin slides on its tummy it is called tobogganing.

The male penguin can make a milk like substance to feed the baby penguin.

The male penguin keeps the egg warm in his brood patch.

Emperor Penguins can hold their breath for 22 minutes.

We are busy using all the facts we have learnt to make an information booklet about Emperor Penguins.

In maths we have been learning about time. We started by ordering things we do in our day and using the language 'before' and 'after'. Then we watched this days of the week song; <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=8GKmCQOy88Y> We practised using the language 'today', 'tomorrow' and 'yesterday'. Finally, we have learned about o'clock, half past, quarter past and quarter to. There have been lots of reasoning and problem solving questions for the children to solve throughout the week, these are some examples;

Quarter past is always later than quarter to.

The train to Blackpool leaves at quarter past and quarter to every hour.

Make a list of the times of the trains Oliver can catch if he gets to the train station between 2 o'clock and half past 4

Do you agree with Teddy?

Explain why.

Christmas Decorations: We would be very grateful for any donations of a small Christmas tree for Ravens and/or any decorations. Many thanks!

Spellings this week were: to /today/ school/are /were /house

Science - please could we have empty litre bottles. We are going to put warm water in the bottles and test materials to see which we can keep warm. We are working out which materials would be best to use for our 'trip to Antarctica' -- if the children have any materials that they would like to test. Must be big enough/small enough to wrap around a litre bottle Thank you so much

Key : White dates - schools open to pupils
 Yellow dates - pupil holiday
 Red dates - bank holiday

Five staff training days will be selected from yellow dates, we suggest 2nd & 5th September, 3rd January, 17th April and 24th July. Some may choose to use twilight hours for staff training instead of some or all of these.

 Norfolk County Council 2023-2024 Norfolk Model Calendar

This calendar applies to community schools, community special schools, VC schools and nursery schools and sets the days on which school transport will be provided. While most Foundation, VA, foundation special, free schools and academy trusts who are able to set their own dates, adopt the Norfolk Model, we advise you to check with your child's school before making holiday or other commitments.
