FLOCK VALUE THIS WEEK WAS OPEN AND HONEST

Red Nose Day

What a fantastically fun day we have had today for Red Nose Day! The children and staff looked amazing in their red clothes! Thank you very much for your generous donations.

Maths Mastery

This week in school we had a visit from Mrs Radhamma from the Maths Hub. She was so impressed with what she saw around school, the children in each class were completing maths tasks using a wide range of vocabulary. Each class has a maths working wall with vocabulary of the week, concrete, pictorial and abstract examples, the children explained to Mrs Radhamma how looking at the wall helps them with their maths. She looked in the children's books and could see how confident the children are at using a variety of strategies including tens and ones grids and bar models. She interviewed two pupils who said they 'love maths because it is challenging'. They confidently explained how they solve calculations and the strategies they use. Our next step is to start using more stem sentences in maths e.g. When the hour hand is on the 12 it is o'clock.

Medicines

Prescribed medicines should be handed in at the office and a form completed. These are the only medicines that we can administer. Once the form is completed and the medicine accepted by the office it will then be passed to the class team. Then it will be with the class team and can go forward and back from the classroom door.

Social Media

We hope you are aware that Nightingale has a Facebook page, and we try hard to update it weekly at least. We would like to thank you for keeping it such a positive place. We have been able to leave the comments on and love to see you tag each other or make positive comments. It's a pleasure to keep it updated.

New menu after Easter holidays

The new menus are out now. Please check your email via Weduc.

Our very lovely cleaner, who you may not see very often as she comes to school at the very end of the day but Mrs Mrs Rudd had a big birthday on Thursday. Mrs Rudd does so much behind the scenes to keep the school clean and germ free.
